A PEOPLE OF FEW WORDS.

these cometh of evil." The Shakers abide by the spirit of this rule. Their words are few, simple, sincere and direct. They waste no energy in idle talk; they use it in thinking and doing. And whatever they do they do with their might. They are content with rothing short of the essence and principle of the things they investigate. They take pains and are patient. And thus the doors of many strange truths open to them. In this way they discovered what may almost be called the unity of disease. A venerable Shaker says of it: "It is said that one man's meat is another man's poison That is but raif the truth. ANY MAN'S MEAT IS ANY MAN'S POISON, under certain conditions. If the grain never got further than the hopper we should never have bread; and if bread never got strength. When the stomach is terpid, helpless and inflemed the food lies in it and rots. This fer mentation produces poisons which may, and often do, disorder every other organ and function of the body. This is indigestion or dyspepsia, with many tenths of your complaints." These words were uttered many years ago. Since then they have cultivated by them. It is a food and digests other foods. Taken while eating, it rests the stomach worthy the name of the people whose name i bears. Any druggist will sell you a trial bottle

Case of Poker Playing in a Hotel

Sentence Postponed.

Chief Justice Bingham today overruled the motion for a new trial made by Thos.

Miller and John C. S. Colby, who were convicted the 28th of last January in Criminal Court No. 1 of setting up a gaming table in a room of the Hotel Regent last October. Sentence was deferred until the court had consulted District Attorney

Davis in the matter, Messrs, A. A. Lipscomb and Percey Metzger, counsel for the defendants, having asked the judge to suspend sentence in view of the previous good

The testimony submitted on behalf of the government tended to show that Colby, then a Treasury Department clerk, bu since dismissed, rented a room in the hotel; that he was asleep in an adjoining room when the place was raided by the police, and that Miller was in charge at the time, a game of poker being in progress. Upon the conviction of the men Mr. Lipscomb entered a motion for a new trial on behalf of Miller, submitting in support of it among other things that the indictment, in charging that the defendant set up and kept a certain house for the purpose of gaming and unlawfully permitted gambling therein, charged them with three sepa-rate and distinct offenses. No motion for a new trial was made on behalf of

to a new trial was made on benaif of Colby until last week, many weeks after the limit of four days allowed had expired. District Attorney Davis refrained from making an objection to the fatal tardiness of the motion, but gave notice that hereafter he will insist upon the point in all other cases.

stating that Colby said he did not wish to testify.

In overruling the motion today Chief Justice Bingham said that he was confident that the men had been given a fair trial. Colby was not prevented by the court from one of the three allegations was sustained the offense was complete. Chief Justice Bingham stated that the section of the law under which the indict-ment was drawn has never been finally passed upon by an appellate court of the District, and he intimated that it would be well to carry the case to the Court of Appeals.

Appeals.

Assistant District Attorney Jeffords then asked that the men be sentenced, when Mr. Lipscomb asked the court to suspend sentence during the good behavior of the men. He said that their previous character was excellent, and claimed that, admitting the evidence submitted against them to be true, they had done nothing more than engage in a social game of poker, a thing, he remarked, which is carried on in about every club house and in many homes in the District. The defendants are not criminals.

FISH SEASON.

The Early Catch of Shad Larger Than Usual.

The early catch of shad in the Potomac this season has been larger than usual, and the prices are lower than they have been so early in the season for a long time.

During the past few weeks most of the shad in the local market have been caught in gill nets, especially those caught in the put in the river now, and by the middle of rext week it is expected all the seines will be in operation. The catch of herring has rot been so large, and better prices prevail. From now until the close of the shad and herring season prices will gradually decline until shad will probably sell as low as 7 or 8 cents apiece, while herring will probably sell as low as $1.50 or $2 a thousand. White perch and rock fish are always scarce during the shad and herring ways scarce during the shad and herring season, and the experience of the fishermen this season is no different from that of years past. Yellow perch and catfish are unusually plentiful, and are correspondingly cheap. The season for shad and herring will close May 15, by which time the fish are poor and not in demand. Later in the season the packers will start up the work of putting the fish away in barrels.

work of putting the fish away in barrels, and this will give employment to many ad-ditional men, as well as scores of women. When the shad and herring season closes the salt water fish from the lower Potomac, including spots, bluefish, croakers, trout and mackerel, will appear to supply the fish demands. During the past few days a great many black bass, including a number of the big-mouth variety, have been caught in the gill nets, especially about Pohick creek and Gunton. Some of the lealers have handled so many of them that they have made them a specialty. It is stated that a small seine has been operated in the river between here and Alexandria in the day time, as well as at night, and that large numbers of small black bass that hereafter he will insist upon the point in all other cases.

In Colby's motion for a new trial he also submitted that the indictment was fataily defective because it charged two separate and distinct offenses. He also stated that his attorney at the trial, Mr. Thomas C. Taylor, did not allow him to take the witness stand in his own behalf. That statement Mr. Taylor denied, when the motion was argued last week, stating that Colby said he did not wish to testifying, said the judge, and he could not doubt that he had been given the opportunity to testify. Referring to the contention that the indictment charged three separate and distinct oftenses, the chief justice remarked that while it did allege
